BIO ACTIVE FRQUENCY RESEARCH MANUAL

BIO ACTIVE FREQUENCY RESEARCH MANUAL

YOU ARE ONE OF THE PIONEERS - You are one of the fortunate few. We salute you as one who has the courage and foresight to investigate for answers that may not be available to the rest of the world for many years to come.

This manual contains research procedures for use of Bio-active Frequencies- those used experimentally to affect general well being. It also provides details on all common uses for Bio-energetic frequencies and instruments.

This handbook is available only to Bio Active Frequency instrument owners and researchers. It is vital to read ALL OF THIS MANUAL before attempting to use the frequencies in the tables. The information presented in this manual is for investigational use only. No results are guaranteed or implied. All research presented must be considered anecdotal.

INTRODUCTION TO FREQUENCIES IN THIS MANUAL

These frequencies are suitable ONLY for use with bio-active frequency instruments such as Quantronics, ScalarTronix, Infinitech, FutureTronics, Electrospectrum, Electromagic, Astropulse, NatureTronics, Biosolutions, Natural Solutions, Energy Wellness or any instrument that uses the same format.

REPORTED SIDE EFFECTS OF BIO-ACTIVE FREQUENCIES

Each species of life has its own unique electronic signature. Every micro-organism has its own specific molecular oscillation pattern.

All bio active frequency channels published in this manual are without any reported side effects from the users. That is not to say that they were not without effects.

COMMON SENSE

Remember to use common sense with this manual. It is impossible to anticipate every possible mistake anyone could make with this technology or their instrument. When in doubt about what to do, reread all available literature and proceed conservatively.

It is up to the user to exercise due caution. We cannot assume responsibility for misuse, or unauthorized use which violates existing regulations. Your use of bio active frequency is strictly experimental and voluntary. Seek competent council with your physician or practitioner before using bio active frequency. Certain conditions may exclude you from experimenting with bio active frequency. Read this manual in its entirety before starting.

THREE Rules for Success:

1. CHOOSING THE CORRECT FREQUENCY: RESULTS ARE ONLY POSSIBLE IF THE CORRECT FREQUENCY PATTERN IS USED.

Bio-active frequencies are safe to use, because each bio active frequency affects only one type of organism, and is harmless to anything with a different genetic code.

Since every variety of organism has a different genetic code, every organism requires a different frequency. If you use the wrong frequency on an organism, naturally it would have no effect.

This is important because many different organisms attack the same tissues, and may cause identical symptoms. It is hard to tell which one is causing the problem, even with current lab techniques.

Since each organism is affected by a different frequency, it is important to use all the frequencies listed for that problem in the table of conditions. (The detox and parasite frequencies may also help.)

Unlike antibiotics, the frequencies are harmless. You can use as many as you want, as long as the speed at which your body removes toxins is tolerable.

Some Bio-active Frequencies , channels 1 thru 28, affect more problems than all other frequencies combined.

You should always try these if the first frequencies you try do not produce the required results.

The second most effective frequencies are the detox numbers, 29, 41, 58, 61, 71, 87, 88, and 105, to stimulate removal of toxins.

The third most effective group is, 29, 42, 45, 48, 58 and 86. These are primarily for parasites and amoebae.

However, the table of conditions in this manual is the most effective place to start. The frequencies most frequently reported successful for each condition are shown next to the name of the affliction.

Remember that if drainage is neglected, the most effective frequency may create a temporarily increase in the symptoms.

How To Identify The Best Frequency

For A Given Condition

A. Look at the table and select 5 or 6 frequency pattern numbers listed with that condition. Test them.

Channels # 1 through 29, 41, 71, 87, 88, 105 are the first to test, since the effect you want will be obvious within 6 hours, if the correct frequency is in dhis group.

Other numbers may take longer, because they are intended to stimulate tissue regeneration.

B. If there is no change in symptoms, test a second group of numbers taken from the Table under the same condition.

C. When you find a group of 5 or 6 numbers that produces a benefit (or if you forgot to use drainage, an increase in symptoms), you may wish to stop there, and use that entire group of numbers at each treatment session.

Or you can narrow the group of five down to one, by testing the numbers one at a time and watching for an effect.

It only takes 5 to 15 minutes to test 5 numbers. But if you need immediate results, use all the numbers.

Why you may want to experiment with other frequencies

As previously explained, different organisms that attack the same tissue cause identical symptoms.

For Example:
Arthritis in joints and muscles may be caused by any of these micro-organisms:

(a) Influenza (an infinite variety of mutant flu viruses)

(b) Pneumococci

(c) Tuberculosis

(d) The gonorrhea organism, Neisseria

(e) Lyme Disease (Borelliosis, transmitted by ticks)

(f) The syphilis spirochete

(g) An unclassified amoeba
(which labs often mislabel as white blood cells)

(h) A Coxsackie-type virus which colonizes the intima, as in Raynaud's disease

(i) A cell-wall deficient phase of a mycobacterium, presently in acromegaly

(j) A prion (self-replicating, non DNA protein) present in psoriasis

(k) An unclassified virus observed in cases of fibromyositis

(l) Unclassified viruses in the tuncia mucosa coli of individuals afflicted with ulcerative colitis

(m) Unclassified viruses in neurogenic disturbances

(n) The Bx cancer virus (Cryptocides primordiales)

(o) Cell-wall deficient organisms in cases of bursitis, gout, myositis, etc., associated with altered permeability of the tunica mucosa coli (different life cycle)

(p) Rheumatic fever strains of strep

The list goes on and on, and these are just the organisms KNOWN to be associated with arthritis! There are probably even more of them that we don't know about yet.

Every one of these organisms requires a different frequency to effect it!

Obviously, if you used just one frequency, and it happened to be the wrong frequency, you would see no effect on the arthritis.

So if you don't want to test 5 to 10 frequencies to find the one that works, just use all the frequency numbers listed for that condition. Or you can isolate the most effective single frequency in about 15 minutes, but that can delay results.

Remember - most problems are effected by channels 1 through 28. That's a good place to start, but try all the frequencies available if you have an automatic program. Most of the other frequencies are used mainly for research with tissue regeneration, detoxification, parasites, mood change and nervous system disorders.

2. THE SECOND RULE FOR SUCCESS IS THE CORRECT PLACEMENT OF ELECTRODES:

Electrode: any appliance attached to the body for the conduction of energy or frequency into the body.

Even if you use the correct frequencies, you might fail to eradicate a Stomach Ulcer if you use the Hand electrodes. That's because frequencies destined for the stomach should be applied by placing electrodes on the soles of the feet. So, correct placement of electrodes is of crucial importance.

Hand electrodes - be sure to touch all fingertips (including thumb) to allow proper conduction through the hands and arms.

Feet electrodes- all toes and balls of the foot must touch to allow proper conduction through the feet and legs.

ONLY USE ELECTRODES ON THE HANDS WHEN THESE ORGANS ARE INVOLVED:

a) Any organ above the diaphragm (lung, brain, teeth, etc.)
b) Large and Small Intestine, (EXCEPT STOMACH)
c) Immune system, including allergies
d) Endocrine system (glands & reproduction)
e) Vascular system (blood vessels)
(NOTE: We cannot endorse use of this instrument for heart conditions, in spite of potential benefits.)

ONLY USE ELECTRODES ON THE FEET WHEN THESE ORGANS ARE INVOLVED:

a) Stomach
b) Liver and Gall bladder
c) Pancreas and spleen
d) Kidneys and Urinary bladder
e) Tendons, Joints, Skin, Scars, Fibroids, Connective tissue in general.

Applying electrodes directly over the afflicted area

Normally, the easiest way to deliver frequencies to an afflicted organ is to hold the cylinders in the hands, or rest the feet on the metal plates. The energy pathways (meridians) in the hands and feet distribute frequencies all over the body.

But sometimes, these energy pathways are blocked by tiny scars or toxins. Then they are unable to carry frequencies to the target area.

Therefore, the only method that absolutely guarantees delivery of frequencies to a targeted area, is direct application of electrodes directly over and behind an afflicted organ.

This eliminates the risk of a blocked meridian failing to carry frequencies to that organ. But be sure the afflicted area lies exactly on an imaginary straight line drawn between the two electrodes. Even slight deviations in placing the electrodes can mean the difference between success and failure.

Loosely-applied electrodes may sting, if there are slight gaps between skin and electrode, or if the subject shifts position. Therefore, strap the metal plate electrodes flat and firm against the skin with ACE elastic bandages, athletic sweatbands or velcro bandages.

If held in place with the hands, slip rubber gloves or plastic bags over the hands, so the frequencies go through the afflicted area instead of the energy pathways of the hands. Or you may prefer to lie in a prone position on top of one metal plate, with the other electrode flat on top of you.

CAUTION: when using metal plates, always use a lubricating gel or lotion between metal plate and skin to allow conductivity.

If There Is No Tingling Sensation

A tingling sensation indicates that the power is sufficient to do the job. It is important to feel tingling when using frequencies above #14 on the hands or feet. You will be unable to feel tingling when applying frequencies to larger areas of the body.

But certain individuals complain that they get no tingling sensation at all when applying frequencies above #14 to the feet.

This is probably because the thick calloused sole of the foot can block the weak electrical current from the electrodes. Also, the extra distance and tissue volume from one leg to the other dissipates more energy than in the upper torso.

The manufacturer of most instruments limited the available power to low levels that are safe for subjects with an unrecognized heart condition. Therefore, some researchers use foot immersion to dramatically increase penetration of the frequencies through soles of the feet. This is done by putting the metal plates in 2 separate plastic buckets of water and placing one foot in each bucket. The electrodes must be in 2 separate plastic buckets. If in the same container (like a tub) the current flows through the water instead of the body, and there is no control over where the frequencies go.

However, we can't recommend the bucket method, as effective as it is, for reasons of potential liability. It is too risky from a legal standpoint for us to recommend using your instrument around water, even if your particular instrument is so well electrically isolated from wall current that the shock hazard is non-existent.

Blocked Energy Pathways

Transmitted frequencies are carried to all parts of the body more or less evenly. But electrodes use energy pathways and acupuncture meridians to distribute frequencies to the target organ. Scars as tiny as 3 millimeters across can block meridians from carrying frequencies from the electrodes to the target area.

Bypassing Blocked Meridians

Meridians are often blocked in the feet, because individuals with poor circulation usually deposit more toxins there. Since water is an excellent electrical conductor, the immersion method is a highly effective method of bypassing blocked foot meridians. In the immersion method, each foot is submerged in a separate plastic bucket of water. One metal plate is used in each plastic bucket of water.

However, we do not recommend the immersion method for reasons of liability. Bucket immersion is only useful for meridians blocked in the feet.

To Clear Blocked Meridians

Application of the correct frequency pattern across the blocked section of a meridian has been used to correct blockages. The only way to bypass meridians blocked above the feet is to directly apply metal plates to the afflicted organ. Only electrodes have the necessary power to clear a blocked meridian.

3. DRAINAGE: The Third Rule For Success

When hundreds of millions of toxins are present at the same time they may temporarily aggravate symptoms.

However, it is possible to avoid aggravation of symptoms entirely, simply by drinking enough water to flush toxins out of the body as quickly as they are released. Unless these toxins are flushed out of the body rapidly, they can intensify any symptom or cause new ones.

Therefore, it is very important to flush the body by drinking as much purified water as possible. Tap water is too impure, and it adds other toxins.

Flushing out toxins is just as important for success as using the correct frequency. Detoxification frequencies are listed in the table of conditions.

Drinking water should be given to the subject at least 30 minutes before any food or drink, and at least 3 hours after eating. Water must be given on an empty stomach to be effective in flushing toxins out of the body. The minimum water required is one ounce of water for every kilo (or 2.2 pounds of body weight). That is at least 8 full glasses of water per day for a 125 pound subject.

WHAT EFFECT ARE YOU LOOKING FOR?

The response you are looking for could be either:

a) the sudden disappearance of all symptoms
b) an increase in symptoms, if drainage is poor.

Remember: a temporary increase in symptoms is possible if the subject neglects to drink enough water to flush out the toxins released. Toxins cause nearly every kind of symptom.

If symptoms become worse, flush toxins out with more drinking water, use the detox frequencies, and skip a session, if necessary.

Detox numbers are so important they should be added to any sequence of frequency patterns. Whether used on an infection or on a toxic exposure, these frequencies may be very useful in speeding recovery.

Conditions which seem to be caused by viruses may actually be caused by toxic exposure. The symptoms may be very similar, including fever, blocked metabolism, and immune response.

Even if you are dealing only with infection, detox frequencies still aid in speeding recovery. They accelerate the elimination of toxins released by dead microbes (via kidneys, skin, lungs, colon).

While flushing out toxins with purified water is still essential to recovery, these frequencies may possibly help eliminate toxins which are not water-soluble.

It should be remembered that millions of tons of toxins are added to our air, food and water every day. And hundreds of brand-new cancer causing toxins are added to the available drugs, pesticides and industrial chemicals each day. In this deluge of toxins, some probably exist which do not respond to the detox frequencies.
Once certain toxins bind to functional cell groups and block metabolic pathways, it is next to impossible to remove them from the cell. The Koch reagents were once used for this, but today seem to be ineffective with the new carcinogens." Dr. Rife demonstrated that just one-billionth of a gram of a common carcinogen could block metabolism and drastically accelerate replication of the cancer virus. We don't know yet what the breaking point is for human metabolism. But we're getting close. This deluge of 20th century-carcinogens may be the reason that the incidence of cancer has increased from 1 in 24 Americans in the year 1900, to 1 in 3 today (in a lifetime).

Why a temporary increase in symptoms can be a good sign!

When organisms die, their internal toxins are released as they disintegrate These toxins can create the same symptoms as the problem.

When killing massive numbers of disease organisms, their toxins must be flushed out of the body as rapidly as they accumulate. This is easily done by giving the subject 10 glasses of water each day.

If toxins are allowed to build up from hundreds of millions of disease organisms all dying at the same time, this may result in temporary aggravation of symptoms.

Although feeling worse can mean drinking adequate water was neglected, it's prob-ably a very good sign. It means you have found the frequency that will kill the organism causing the disease, and your subject will recover.

To be effective, this water must be taken when the stomach is empty - 30 minutes before meals or 3 hours afterward. The detox frequencies speed things up, But always use detox frequencies with the drinking water, or they will be of little use.

Remember: the increase in symptoms comes only from the toxins released. Many years of testing prove a complete ABSENCE of any reported side effects for frequencies listed in this book.

REMEMBER: If symptoms increase, it is vital to drink MORE purified water to flush away toxins released by dead microbes.

Nevertheless, it's also important to eliminate any external factors responsible for making the subject feel worse.

For Example:
Other factors increasing symptoms are prescription drugs producing harmful side effects, exposure to toxic chemicals in the work or home environment, debilitating factors such as lack of sleep, overexertion, chilling, stress, or excessive food, tobacco, alcohol, or sugar.

In other words, if any external factors are eliminated, a logical conclusion is that when symptoms Increase, you are using a frequency that is effective at helping your body heal.

Think of drinking water as medicine. Nag your subject until that is engraved on his brain. Keep a jug in the car, full of purified water, so he has no excuse for neglecting his daily 10 glasses of water.

Mistakes Which Could Prevent Success

a. Using the wrong frequency - This is the most common mistake. If you don't have the time to isolate the correct frequency or use them all, the most effective frequencies reported are numbers 1 thru 28. Most of the time this will succeed. If not, test the detox frequencies and those for parasites, (check table of conditions for list ings).

The table of conditions are only guidelines which reflect what works most often. If what you are working with is a rare problem, you may want to try the other frequencies in an auto matic program installed in your instrument.

b. Using the right frequency in the wrong place.

The target organ or tissue determines whether you should apply your electrodes to the hands or to the feet.

Remember that, if the electrodes are used on the hands when they should have been applied to the feet, nothing will happen.

Also consider that if you aren't getting results, a meridian may be blocked. Then you apply the electrodes directly over the target organ and behind it.

c. Is drainage adequate?

Since toxins actually PRODUCE symptoms, if toxins are allowed to accumulate, so will the symptoms. So flush them out fast.

d. Too many frequencies for too long?

This is only significant for the first few sessions in severe cases The effect is very similar to inadequate drainage.

Using just ONE frequency may affect a few hundred million cells. But using ALL THE FREQUENCIES AT ONCE affects so many cells, that it could overtax the ability of the circulation to clear toxins as fast as they are released. Depending on the con dition of the individual, the toxins themselves could then inten sify symptoms or create new ones. The presence of too many toxins can create a feeding frenzy for other opportunistic infections. Do not affect more than your systems can handle.

Of course, the correct response is to use the detox frequencies instead of the regular frequencies, immediately increase the drinking water to flush out toxins, and resume with fewer frequencies only when symptoms subside.

e. Was treatment discontinued too soon?

Remember that any safe therapy should be continued even after symptoms disappear. It is quite safe using published frequencies which have all been tested and found free of side effects.

One reason to continue treatment past recovery is to affect emergent phases in the life cycle of the pathogen as it matures. Each bio-active frequency affects only one stage of the life cycle of the organism.

f. Geopathic disturbances.

If you observe initial improvement, and subsequent relapses with every therapy you try, it is time to check for geopathic zones and focal disturbances.

We have reports of patients recovering with therapy that previously failed to help — only when they moved their bed or desk off a narrow band of geopathic radiation.

There are cases on record of husband acquiring an ailment in the same area of his body as his wife, when he simply began to sleep on her side of the bed.

These zones may range from six inches to several yards in width. They may run at any angle across a room. So it is hazardous to move the sleeping location without first mapping the zone boundaries.

GEOPATHIC STRESS CAN PREVENT ANY THERAPY FROM SUCCEEDING. Be sure it is not a factor in your case.

g. Applying frequencies to hands of feet when a focal infection is present.Toxins produced by a focus often block the meridians that would normally carry frequencies to the focus to affect it. In this case, the only way to eliminate the focus is to apply the frequencies directly over and behind the location of the focal infection. In this way, you are assured of getting the fre quencies to the focus.

How long is each frequency used?

The average time is 3 minutes per frequency selected. The first time, use 1 minute per frequency. If toxins do not accumulate, you can then go to 3 minutes per frequency.

The time should be varied for the response of the subject. Heavily infected individuals, when entrenched with persistent afflictions, might be limited to 1 minute per frequency until the toxins from such vast numbers of cells are eliminated.

Sometimes the subject is embarrassed to admit he is not complying by drinking enough water to eliminate toxins.
Easily detected signs of inadequate drainage are sluggishness, headaches, fatigue, yellowish skin, pain, swelling or return of symptoms.

For chemically-sensitive individuals, one minute per frequency is a good place to start. It is also necessary to eliminate geopathic radiation exposure and parasites.

The time is gradually increased to 3 minutes, and a session is skipped if the subject is sluggish. This is also a guideline for experiments with AIDS and other debilitated individuals.

Five minutes is about the maximum ever used for most frequencies (1 through 28).

Some of the other frequencies do respond better to longer times. For example, the headache frequency channel 40 and the menstrual cramp fre quency channel 57, are far more effective if allowed to remain running until the subject indicates all pain has disappeared.

Frequencies should be used carefully on the head; limiting intensity if the electrical stimulation produces visual effects. Sessions on the head should be discontinued if the subject experiences anything unusual, such as exacerbation of dizziness or synascope.

Juvenile stages of the life cycle of a microbe are different than the mature stage of the same genus of microbe. These spore stages can also withstand extreme heat and radiation.

Eventually, these stages in the life cycle mature - at which time, they must be eliminated to prevent relapse. This is why sessions must be repeated, even when symptoms disappear rapidly.

Keep in mind that after the microbes are gone, the body needs time to regenerate, rebuild nutritional reserves and restore vitality.

Geopathic radiation damages DNA and will prevent recovery regardless of any therapy. So avoid or deflect it (avoid copper sheets, aluminum foil, etc, as they stop working when “saturated”.)

To rebuild vitality, a diet of fresh raw fruits and vegetables and plenty of sunlight, drinking water and appropriate exercise is of great importance.

For Acute Conditions:

(Those which develop suddenly, recently, and are temporary in nature)

The following schedule is intended only as a suggested guideline. Many variables, including age, vitality and condition of the subject, will determine the length and course of treatment.

One to three sessions daily (if drainage is good)
1-3 minutes per frequency

Usually symptoms disappear the first or second day. However, even if symptoms disappear within hours, it is important to continue sessions for 4-5 days afterward.

To prevent reinfection, you must eliminate other stages of the life cycle as they mature. Remember that multiple stages in the life cycle of microbes were confirmed by Dr. E.C. Rosenow, Sr. (Chief of Bacteriology at the Mayo Clinic), working with Royal R. Rife.

If the subject feels worse afterward (sluggishness, hangover, increased symptoms) due to release of vital toxins, skip a day, increase drainage, use detox numbers and resume administration of frequencies less aggressively.

For Chronic Conditions:

(entrenched, persistent)

First Day:

If pain or previous symptoms are severe, one session of 1 minute on each frequency. Skip a session if still sluggish the next day. If symptoms are moderate, 3 minutes per frequency is average. Adjust to suit subjects symptoms. One session only.

For the next three days:

For those who started with 1 minute, gradually increase this to three minutes per frequency used, once a day. All others, 3 minutes.

If the subject feels better after the first session, use each frequency 3 minutes, one to three times daily. Cut back if sluggish.

If the subject feels temporarily worse, increase drainage and/or skip a session. This is because toxins could be released faster than they are carried away.

After four days:

Once every other day (skip a day between sessions) until symptoms are not only gone, but there is no chance of relapse.

How long should treatment be continued?

When the immune system has been devastated by drugs, a suggested schedule is to continue sessions once every 3 days, tor three times as long as it took for all symptoms to disappear.

With very serious conditions, it is wise to continue periodic treatment on a regular basis as insurance against recurrence or relapse.

With malignant tumors, it is important to continue regular preventive treatment as insurance against development of secondary tumors. Once a subject has cancer, it almost always returns.

Unfortunately, drugs are far too toxic to use as preventive maintenance against relapse. Even prolonged use of aspirin may produce damage to kidneys, stomach, immune system and arteries (aspirin reduces cardiac arrest, but equally increases the risk of stroke).

And of course chemotherapy and radiation would soon kill any patient using them as "regular preventive medicine."

Only bio-active frequencies can be used daily without any harmful effects. All frequencies published in this manual have been in use without a single reported side effects.

Frequency and Life Extension

Some researchers believe there may be possible life-extending qualities associated with certain Bio-active Frequencies.

Experimenting with frequencies in this manner is quite acceptable for anyone to perform on anyone else, since the purpose is simply to investigate life extension.

Frequencies under investigation for life extension include 29, 41,71, 87, 88, 105, and 20 among others. Frequencies to eliminate parasites, and those which affect pathogens may incidentally extend life as a side effect.

The effect of these specific bio-active frequencies on Royal R. Rife illustrates that point. Rife used bio-active frequencies almost daily, for many decades, Rife survived 31 years of chronic alcoholism. He died under suspicious circumstances at age 83, while hospitalized for alcoholism and given Valium. Every doctor knows that Valium arrests breathing in alcoholics.

Whether or not Rife died of foul play, one thing is clear; any man who could survive 31 years of alcoholism, and die only when administered a lethal dose of Valium at age 83, was apparently using something that regularly restored his vitality.

Investigating life extension with Bio-active frequencies is a promising research project, and another lawful use of such instruments.

Factors which speed recovery:

The most important factor is adding the maximum amount possible of water and raw foods to the diet. Increased vitality is frequently apparent and lasts for 4 to 6 hours.

We already know that drinking purified water between meals flushes toxins out of the body. But why are raw foods so helpful?

Why are wild animals free of the cancer, cardiovascular disease, and diabetes that is seen so often in slaughtered livestock? The only significant difference is: wild animals absolutely never cook or process their food. Wild apes, ten times as strong as men, don't either.

Also, the Price-Pottenger Foundation of San Diego has fascinating documentation proving that every primitive tribe studied develops diseases unknown in it's entire history - when it begins to use "civilized" cooked foods.

Man's genetic code evolved long before fire and food processing. This genetic code was designed to use raw, rather than cooked, food for metabolism and repair.

The dangerously altered diet mankind has eaten for the last 100 years has scarcely altered what our cells require. However in that 100 years, man kind has changed almost everything about the way he has lived and eaten for millions of years previously.

Meanwhile, our DNA has only changed .0001 percent in the last 10,000 years - meaning that before our DNA can evolve to replace missing nutrients in processed or cooked foods, mankind will succumb to many degenerative diseases. And he already is.

Even if science discovers all of the hundreds of thousands of enzymes available In raw food, and somehow replaces them all in processed food, we will stiH have degenerative disease caused by changes in our diets.

That is because cooked food, unlike raw food, creates “clinkers”. This cellular debris is created when molecules in food are denatured by heat and their structure is changed. Such ciinkers interfere with metabolic processes and promote aging and disease.

You should consume as much raw food as possible. Raw foods contain specific substances for rapid cell repair.

Making fruit smoothies and raw veggie drinks is actually faster than cooking the same foods, in about 5 minutes, you can blend frozen berries, bananas, pure fruit Juices, etc. (leave out the added sugar). You can also add raw kefir. Try a blend of 1.5 cups water with a variety of sliced veggies in a blender. For protein, add a raw egg (only eggs from free-running hens, from health food stores. Raw eggs often carry salmonella if they are from factory hens cramped quarters and fed processed food).

Diversity is essential. Eat as many kinds of raw food as possible. The more you eat, the more types of biochemicals you provide your body to fight disease. The modern diet, limited to a dozen vegetables or so and three or four sources of protein, almost guarantees deficiencies of what our ancestors evolved to eat, over millions of years. Our highly synthetic diet is incompatible with the needs of our cells.

Raw foods are unable to destroy viruses, tumor cells or bacteria. Raw food is not a cure for cancer, although it may strengthen the immune system.

But on the other hand, only raw foods provide the best materials to repair the damage of chronic illness. Processed foods merely add to the degeneration of the illness.

Remember that drainage is also essential for success with Bio-active frequencies. The detox frequencies assist greatly, but water is still necessary.

Energy disturbances which can prevent any therapy from working

This is a rule of thumb for any type of therapy:
If the subject improves initially, then repeatedly hits a plateau or the gain is lost, this decline may be the result of an energy disturbance which blocks normal metabolism and tissue repair.

The most common causes of "hitting a brick wall" in recovery are geopathic stress, toxic exposure, focal infection, or parasites. Here is what to look for.

1. Focal Energy Disturbance

This can be a hidden infection, or an acupuncture meridian blocked by toxins or scars.

Such a focus may go undetected for years, draining energy and hindering metabolism without producing obvious disease. But when the patient does become ill, the focus blocks recovery with even the best therapy.

If the focus is a hidden infection, it is a continual drain on the immune sys-tem If the focus is a blocked acupuncture meridian, it hinders proper metabolism.

A focal infection often develops after exposure to toxins in the jaw or appendix. A focal energy disturbance develops in surgical scars, in the appendix, uterus, tonsils, or gall bladder.

Since a silent focus is without symptoms and extremely difficult to identify on x-rays, its existence is ignored by U.S. medical schools. Diagnostic equipment for electronic detection of silent foci is only used in the most exclusive European clinics These clinics do recognize that recovery from any chronic condition is almost impossible if a focal disturbance exists. The Issels Silbersee cancer clinic refused cancer patients until after any focal disturbance was removed. A focus "eliminated" with drugs or surgery frequently returns. However, sometimes even a very resistant focus may be eliminated by applying the frequency # 1 through 29, 41, 58, 68, 71, 87, 88 and 105 to the blocked area until instruments or dowsing indicates clear.

The correct frequency must be applied directly over, under and across the blocked or infected area.

2. Geopathic Disturbance:

This is another energy disturbance which can silently damage the body at the metabolic level, and block any therapy from succeeding.

Several different types of weak field disturbances in the earth's energy field can disrupt functions of DNA These are collectively referred to as "geopathic radiation."

Geopathic radiation causes gradual genetic degeneration Over a period of years, it seriously disrupts metabolism in both plants and animals, by preventing the repair of DNA.

The correlation between cancer and geopathic stress is close to 100%. This does not mean that geopathic radiation directly causes cancer - it does not directly cause any disease. It only causes the metabolic degeneration that encourages disease.

This is a universal law in nature: any kind of weakness or disability is an invisible signal to every predator, from wolves to vultures to parasites, to move in and take advantage of the prey.

Mankind has only one remaining serious predator: the cancer virus, Cryptocides Primordiales. The body is left defenseless against the cancer virus by geopathic radiation, because it disrupts normal metabolism and weakens the immune system, much like radioactivity or a carcinogen.

Royal R. Rife was the first to isolate the cancer virus (Cryptocides Primordiales) followed by many others. After filtering this virus to free it from the tumor cells, and injecting it into 400 lab animals, he filmed the development of tumors in all 400 animals.

Rite's discovery of the cancer virus was later confirmed by Rosenow of the Mayo, Wilhelm von Brehmer, Gaston Naessons, Clara Fonti, Wilhelm Koch Eleanor Alexander-Jackson. Dr. Virginia Livingston renamed the cancer virus "progenitor Cryptocides", photographed in human sperm, and took credit for the discovery of the cancer virus after Rife retired.

Hundreds of researchers using bio-active frequency instruments have confirmed the role of the cancer virus. But articles linking it to cancer are far less accepted than articles suggesting that cancer might have a genetic link.

However, on closer inspection, only one study claims to have discovered evidence that cancer is genetic, This study (funded by U.S. pharmaceutical interests) found that 2% of those with certain cancers have a gene which produces a protein linked to rapid tumor formation. They neglected to mention that the identical gene is also present in the general population in almost the same ratio!

Cancer viruses have been dark-field photographed in sperm, apparently transmitting cancer into our offspring by injecting its own genetic code into the embryo.

But the pharmaceutical cartel apparently prefers to manufacture evidence for the heredity theory. They have persecuted famous doctors like E.C. Rosenow and others for publishing findings which contradict the hereditary theory. The hereditary ("oncogene") theory supports the use of chemotherapy, and diverts attention from the fact that the cancer virus is just a viral infection, which can be eliminated with proper therapy.

Respected doctors and scientists whose studies support Rite's discovery of the cancer virus include F.F. Friedmann, Mori, Rous, Schmidt, Spengler, Frick, Bechamp, Enderlein, Aaser, Bittner-Green, Dechow, Gye, Nebel, Rous, and more recently, doctors publishing in "JAMA" and "Nature". This is why the conventional medical establishment has been unable to dismiss the role of the cancer virus entirely, unlike the research of others whose heresay threatened the status quo."
A number of European government and medical studies have confirmed this correlation between geopathic zones and cancer.

The first studies were by Dr. Freiherr Gustav von Pohl in Germany, in the 1920's After a Berlin study indicated a relationship, he became curious about so called “cancer houses”, houses where every occupant of the bedroom had died of cancer for hundreds of years.

With the German penchant for record keeping, Dr. von Pohl mapped every geopathic zone running through all the houses in the Bavarian town of Vilsbiburg. Then he persuaded the mayor to compare his map with records of addresses where someone had recently died of cancer.

In 100% of the houses where someone died of cancer, bands of geopathic radiation also ran through the victims’ bedroom! There are about a dozen types of geopathic disturbances. At first dowsers were used to detect them.

Later, special electronic equipment was developed for detection of geopathic interference fields, neutron beams and associated radiation. Since then, many studies confirmed a nearly 100% correlation between geopathic radiation and cancer.

In addition to cancer, any part of the body lying in a geopathic disturbance zone during sleep develops degeneration and pain. Arthritis was also present in nearly all patients surveyed who were sleeping in a geopathic disturbance zone, according to the studies.

It is now known that geopathic radiation can make recovery from any illness difficult or impossible. Such individuals go into a slow decline over a period of years, lingering and dying without ever realizing that the underlying cause may have been a geopathic zone.

Expert dowsers are able to deflect many types of geopathic radiation. But as you will soon see, this may be subject to error. Unless you feel better after a dowser says he deflected the radiation, assume the radiation is still affecting you.

Geopathic interference bands are often only a yard wide, but miles long. Moving the bed out of the disturbed field may result in better sleep and some relief that very night. But it may take several years for a geopathically stressed individual to recover completely. Because of DNA damage to his immune system.

For this reason, it is important to continue to use the bio-active frequencies even after recovery, and support one's health with fresh raw fruits and vegetables, exercise and full-body exposure to sunlight.

These all contribute to gradual regeneration of tissue, in ways which can be observed but not yet explained by medical science. Example: British and German studies show that full-body exposure to sunlight reduces the need for insulin in diabetics, reduces high blood pres-sure by 40% for hours and days after a single sunbathing session, and moves plaque from the arteries to the skin, where it is converted to vitamin D. (Source: Z. Kime, M.D.)

Important: These effects are only possible with sunbathing. Artificial light is unable to produce all the correct frequencies present in sunlight, and windows and prescription eyeglasses block the ultraviolet frequencies.

According to Dr. Kime, the full-body exposure was any time between 10 and 2 p.m., and ended before reddening of the skin. Dr. Kime also stated that many medical studies indicate that carotene from yellow and green vegetables may prevent skin cancer. He recommends eating these vegetables liberally or taking carotene supplements if you are going to begin sunbathing.

So clearly, raw food, sun and exercise are all valuable allies in the effort to repair metabolic damage. A good clinic specializing in detoxification and diet can help, too. But it's all a losing battle, until the patient moves his bed out of the geopathic zone.

And remember: a cancer patient may also have to overcome metabolic damage from prior chemotherapy and conventional radiation "therapy". This is double jeopardy - not only does he have to repair metabolic damage from geopathic radiation, but he also has to overcome new, secondary tumors popping up, because conventional therapy induces new metabolic errors and perpetuates this cycle.

To be fair, chemotherapy can be rapidly effective at eliminating tumor cells. But it also creates secondary tumors, since all chemotherapy drugs are carcinogens themselves. In order to meet FDA licensing requirements, new chemotherapy drugs must be cystostatic, or toxic to cells. They are all carcinogens.

So the metabolic degeneration from either chemotherapy and geopathic radiation allows the cancer virus to continually start new tumors.

This is good reason for a cancer patient to continue to support his vitality with good nutrition, appropriate exercise and bio-active frequencies even if he remains healthy for the rest of his life.

Unfortunately, conventional medical tests are unable to detect the loss of most normal metabolic functions, until the cancer virus begins to transform normai ceils to tumor cells. Then the tests can detect this “loss of differentiation”.

Conventional diagnostic test are unable to detect metabolic damage in general, whether done by geopathic radiation, or smoking, prescription drugs, and Junk food.

Consequently, without any lab tests capable of gauging the metabolic changes leading to cancer, all this is a little too far out for modern medicine to accept in spite of several hundred European studies now clearly linking more than 94% of cancer and arthritis to DNA damage from exposure to geopathic radiation.

How long wilt it take orthodox medicine to recognize the hazards of geopathic radiation?

Well, every few years, medical authorities revise their limits downward, for what constitutes hazardous exposure to x-rays, microwaves, power lines, computers, and radioactivity.

On the other hand, it took the medical profession a hundred years to finally decide that smoking promotes lung cancer, despite abundant evidence everywhere (the tobacco industry is still trying to deny it).

We do not need a hundred years. If virtually everyone sleeping in geopathic radiation has cancer, the relationship is obvious to anyone with a little common sense.

Geopathic radiation does not cause cancer. But it inevitably weakens the body , thus assisting cancer viruses to transform normal cells into malignant cells.

Remember, we also suffer further metabolic damage from traces of carcinogens in everything we eat, breathe and use. The average diet is just as debilitating. It is stripped of so many natural protective nutrients that it is a miracle that it keeps us alive for 50 or 60 years.

Give yourseif at least a fighting chance; Survey your house for geopathic fields, and move your bed if you find one. Before sophisticated electronic gear was developed to detect geopathic fields, skilled human dowsers were the only means of identifying them.

Elaborate studies using radio transmitters and shields prove that the brain's posterior pituitary and adrenal sensors can accurately detect geopathic radiation, unless chemical or electromagnetic pollution create interference.

The ancient Romans and Chinese, more in touch with their instinctive senses than modern man, once sent dowsers to detect zones of "bad influence" (feng shu'ei), and avoided building homes there. We modern humans are too insulated from nature to notice.

Most animals, (except cats and certain insects) intuitively refuse to rest in geopathic zones. Lacking reasoning, their instinctive senses (posterior pituitary and adrenal sensors) protect them.

Even today, American real estate agents dealing with first generation Orientals know these clients will turn down a prime property with "bad influence" or geopathic radiation detected by their feng shu'ei dowsers.

It's not worth a lingering illness. Relocate your bed or desk only when you are sure where the geopathic zone runs. If you make a mistake, you might be moving your furniture into a more intense area of the disturbance. For accurate location of geopathic fields, you can use the average findings of three experienced dowsers. The American Society of Dowsers in Dansville, Vt. 05828-0024 can refer you to the nearest chapter of dowsers,

This is a fairly reliable technique for locating geopathic zones in most cases:

Simply invite three dowsers to dowse your house, Each dowser must survey your house one day apart. Let them mark the zones they detect on the floor, in chalk. Then record the exact measured location of the chalk marks on paper, and brush them off the carpet well before the next dowser arrives (to avoid any subliminal influence of seeing the previous dowser's chalk marks). The findings are inconclusive until the marks from all three dowsers coincide.

Factors not subject to direct control of the researcher

Which may prevent or retard recovery

1. Auto-intoxication

If a research subject is busy destroying his body as fast as treatment can revive it, expect to see slow progress.

Some of these detrimental health habits include: inadequate exercise, smoking, alcohol, junk food, excessive toxic exposure to pesticides, industrial poisons, prescription, recreational or over-the-counter drugs, and exposure to toxic dental materials.

Toxicity data on the following dental materials: alumina, nickel (in stainless steel), palladium, gold, silver, mercury, and various plastics is becoming common knowledge.

Some are toxic only under certain conditions. Mercury, for example, is inert-until methylated by Candida in the saliva of those who eat sweets. Then it becomes roughly 100 times more toxic.

The least toxic dental materials are titanium-based bridges and crowns and alumina-free ceramic/glass inlays.

2. Poor subject compliance

Irregular treatment, for example, may retard recovery. The subject may not understand the importance of continuing regular sessions even after symptoms disappear. So he suffers a relapse or incomplete results.

Or he may neglect drainage, or disregard the effects of geopathic stress. Again, he may suffer a relapse and blame the treatment instead of his own poor record.

3. Organ dysfunction due to previous injury or other therapy

You may have no control over previous damage caused by trauma, disease, or surgery, which may leave a fragile patient with less vital organ capacity than he needs to heal rapidly (or even to survive).

Chemotherapy and radiation also reduce the odds of success. At first, they act quickly to eliminate tumors. But they leave metabolic pathways blocked, which inevitably creates recurring and secondary tumors.

Chemotherapy leaves a subject susceptible to death from heart damage (virtually guarantees with Adriamycin), pneumonia and kidney infection (due to immune system damage), and uncontrolled secondary and recur-rent tumors (which are virtually immune to chemotherapy once it blocks metabolic pathways).
Thus, one must always take into consideration that the patient's chance of recovery may already be gravely compromised by prior therapy, of whatever type.

4. Malnutrition and impaired cell chemistry

Another factor which may retard or prevent recovery is nutritional deficiencies. Blo-active Frequencies act on microbes. They do not correct underlying dietary deficiencies. While there may be frequencies of some benefit here, they have not been identified.

Malnutrition creates a biological "terrain" that is weak. Nutritionally-inferior tissues are constantly colonized by silent, low-level infections of viruses fungi, parasites and bacteria.

Eliminating these microbes with Bio-active Frequencies may eliminate some symptoms. But if the primary cause is underlying nutritional deficiency, than only a good diet can now eliminate such symptoms.

On the other hand, raw fruits and vegetables may keep you too health to get sick, but they are still unable to kill a microbe.

Recovery may also be unsatisfactory if the underlying cause is actually metabolic defects caused by exposure to toxins, or inherited disease.

The detox frequencies may be of great benefit. But there are millions of carcinogens and toxins, and we don't know yet if they all respond to frequencies.

The metabolic pathways used by our cells took hundreds of millions of years to evolve. We'll need many more millions of years to evolve new biochemical pathways to deal with all our strange new toxins, chemotherapy, and artificially denatured diets.

5. Geopathic stress

Geopathic radiation creates hidden metabolic damage that silently prevents recovery, with any therapy.

6. Miscellaneous factors which retard recovery:

Examples are advanced age, congenital disease, prior frail heaitt" immune competence, unsupportive relatives, etc. (frequently relatives are hostile to alternatives).

It is also important that other types of therapy do not conflict with each other. Use of bio-active frequencies is the only protocol that is entirely compatible with all known forms of therapy.

Bio-active Frequencies do not do everything!

Remember that there are no known bio-active frequencies to correct these conditions: (1) trauma or underlying nutritional deficiencies which prevent genetic repair, (2) genetic damage induced by toxic chemicals, geopathic zones or other radiation.

So affecting cells and parasites may not eliminate all symptoms. For that, effective therapy should always include a focus on healthy diet and exercise and detoxification. Also avoid geopathic radiation, toxic chemicals, and trauma from accident or surgery.

Consider this carefully; over a million years, our ancestors evolved while spending most of their lives outdoors, exercising continually in fresh air and sunshine and eating only raw food (until about 10,000 years ago). Since then our DNA has changed only .0001 percent, so we still have the same requirements for exercise, sunlight and raw food. Shouldn't we spend at least one hour each day in the sunshine, exercising and eating as much raw food as possible? Remember: windows and eyeglasses block as many frequencies of sunlight essential to health, known to be absent in artificial lighting.

Important Information concerning cardiovascular disease

Among researchers, word has circulated regarding cardiovascular deterioration caused by viruses (such as Coxsackie A and B)

The deterioration was rapidly arrested with the use of bio-active frequencies. But we have our reservations about using frequencies on cardiovascular conditions.

There have been no negative incidents reported. Nevertheless, we emphatically wish to discourage the use of bio-active frequencies in cardiovascular cases, simply because of the unpredictability of cardiovascular conditions.

In cardiovascular disease, a cardiovascular incident could occur at any time, triggered by any number of other factors, including previous damage from heart medication. There are always a few who can be hurt by anything.

We don't want to be held responsible by relatives, if by coincidence, a cardiac case happens to be using frequencies on himself at the time he suffers an incident caused by a life of abuse.

An additional consideration is that affecting too many cells could release large amounts of toxins faster than the body could easily eliminate them.

Both arrhythmia and cardiovascular lesions were linked to the toxins of Coxsackie viruses living in the lining of the heart and arteries. Therefore affecting massive numbers of cells could theoretically trigger an existing unstable heart condition.

Nevertheless, future animal studies may prove that eliminating the virus is the best answer to atherosclerosis and cardiomyopathy.

Several researchers have written that they observed elimination of cardiomyopathy and some other types of heart disease by using the frequencies for only a few seconds at first, and gradually increase the time until all symptoms disappeared.
This sounds much safer than plunging in for three minutes,and possibly releasing excessive toxins.

Another method used by some researchers allows cardiovascular patients to use bio-active frequencies for other ailments without risking treatment of the heart or arteries, in an unstable condition.

In this method, frequencies are applied to the hand, but tape insulates the area of each electrode where the 3rd and 5th fingers normally rest. By insulating these finger from the electrodes, the frequencies never reach the heart or blood vessels directly.

This is because the heart and vascular meridians (on 3rd and 5th fingers of both hands) conduct frequencies directly to the heart and vascular system, respectively. So frequencies applied only to the other fingers, or the feet, reach the heart greatly diminished or not at all.

These are good research projects, but only for lab animals. Some cardiac cases are just too unstable. Even though the reports indicate favorable results using the two methods described above, we'd rather be safe than sorry.

Because what is safe for one cardiac case may be unsafe for another, we must advise you that the published bio-active frequencies are only for experimental use on animal cardiovascular cases. Despite highly promising reports, they are not for human use.

Also, manufacturers always advise patients with pacemakers or pumps to avoid use of any electrical device on the body. The warning of these manufactures seems more intended to avoid potential litigation in event of death from medication or stress, than due to any real danger from most devices.

But because we have inadequate data on the effect of bio-active frequencies on all other electro-medical devices, we would have to advise you not to experiment with frequencies if you have a pacemaker or pump device implanted in your body.

Symptoms caused by build-up of toxins

Most microbes manufacture tiny amounts of very potent poisons, to defend themselves, disable the host defenses or digest tissue.

For example, 54 different toxins had been isolated by 1975 from Candida albicans, a yeast colonizing the vagina and intestine. These toxins create "yeast syndrome", depression, migraine, PMS, food sensitivities, arthritic pain, infections and degeneration.

Despite what TV ads say, the new yeast "cure", marketed under a variety of names, merely controls, rather than cures, Candida, a common yeast. It flourishes again soon after this carcinogenic drug is stopped. In the absence of consumed sugar, the disease is self limiting.

When a micro-organism dies and disintegrates, all its internal toxins are released. This is why, when too much yeast is killed, the patient has a "die-off reaction" to small quantities of its highly potent toxins.

A reaction to toxins may include any of the symptoms from the disease itself, since toxins themselves cause many symptoms.

This occurs only with therapy which actually attacks the cause of the disease, rather than when suppressing symptoms with drugs.

As you already know, it becomes vitally important to flush toxins out of the body as fast as they accumulate. This is referred to as DRAINAGE. Drinking plenty of purified water is all it takes.

Typically after the first and second treatment toxins build up fast. Unless these toxins are flushed out of the system quickly, the individual may feel worse than before.

Symptoms may be very mild, such as barely perceived sluggishness. Without adequate drainage, symptoms of toxins may also include fatigue, swelling, headache, malaise, aching and aggravation of previous symptoms.

All this can be minimized or avoided entirely, just by drinking enough water, and if necessary, skipping a session
The detox frequency patterns are excellent to stimulate removal of some toxins, provided one drinks water. And aerobic exercise is also very helpful for eliminating toxins.

However, even if the subject exercises and uses the detox frequency patterns, he must still drink 10 glasses of purified water a day.

Drinking water is also a much easier way for a debilitated person to remove toxins than sweating it all out with jump ropes of jogging. Exercise may be very beneficial, but it is only optional. The detox frequencies do wonders, but the water is still a necessity.

With drainage and detoxification, we have reports of cases where there was little hope which proceeded rapidly to complete recovery.

Usually, the first sign that therapy is working is enduring relief of pain, without further pain medication. Other changes may be noticeable only with time, after organs repair themselves.

However, in some cases, drainage and detoxification frequencies may be inadequate to do the job, because of unbalanced intestinal flora (dysbiosis).

Dysbiosis occurs in patients subjected to geopathic radiation or internal parasites, but occasionally also in those on antibiotics, junk food diets, and unbalanced vegetarianism. Dysbiosis causes putrification in the intestine, The absorption of these toxins by the blood can prevent any therapy from succeeding completely.

Yes, Even More On Drainage!

Drainage, as previously explained, refers to the process of drinking enough water to flush toxins out of the body. Okay, we really are beating you on the head with this drainage business. That's because drainage is vitally important when bio-active frequencies are affecting hundreds of millions or even billions of disease organisms in 1 to 3 minutes.

Remember: toxins produce most of the actual symptoms of disease, So it is hardly surprising that failure to remove them can prevent recovery.

The Hayflick / Carrel Experiments

Many experiments strongly suggest that drainage extends life. Ironically, strong evidence for drainage and longevity comes from the patriarch of a family which controls 85% of the drug industry.

John D. Rockefeller sponsored Dr. Alexis Carrel in a number of astonishing life extension experiments. In one, cultured chicken heart cells were flushed with nutrients, and their waste products continuously removed.

Chickens live a few years. But it appeared that the cells in this culture would never die naturally. Reportedly this experiment was terminated only after 30 years, when Dr. Carrel's successor tired of removing the waste. The cells then died immediately.

These were normal cells, rather than immortal cancer cells. And cancer in heart cells is virtually unknown in medicine.

Since all cells receive continual nourishment from vacuoles, a logical explanation is that these cells achieved near-immortality because of the continuous removal of their toxic metabolic products.

There are a number of ways to remove water-soluble toxins, but usually the fastest, cheapest, and most effective is drinking lots of purified water all day!

The minimum is eight cups of purified water daily (or 30cc. per kilo for lab animals, A cup = 8oz.)

Ten cups (8oz. each) daily seems to have a significantly better effect, if you can get the subject to drink that much.

The recommended schedule is two cups, 30 minutes before each meal, or 3 hours after meals, because the water should be drunk when the stomach is empty.

(The average stomach takes 3 to 7 hours to empty after heavy, greasy meals, but can digest fruits, yogurt and vegetables in about one hour.) The detoxifying effect is greatly reduced if these 8 glasses of water are drunk with meals. Diluting food with water also puts a strain on the pancreas to produce more digestive enzymes for that meal.

Tap water and water from plastic jugs are somewhat toxic by themselves. Plastic jugs add plasticizers to the water which can often be tasted; plasticizers which collect in the heart muscle.

Supermarket vending machines actually sell very pure water (3 to 30 ppm DS). Just bring glass jugs, not plastic. The cost is about 15 to 25 cents a gallon, but this involves frequent trips to refill.

Consider buying a purifier as an excellent investment for longer life. Many water distillers are undesirable, because petrochemicals such as pesticides boil off before the water and are actually concentrated in the purified water. In summer, distillers overheat the kitchen, warp cabinets with steam and waste electricity.

Reverse Osmosis (R.O.) purifiers are much better. R.O. plus carbon filters is far more efficient than carbon filters alone. You can find R.O.'s at some lealth food stores.

The best way to consume all this water is 2 cups on arising, and again before each meal. That's 8 glasses a day. Or with 2 more at bedtime, that's 10 glasses daily. The difference in how one feels after flushing out toxins this way is often immediately, clearly, remarkably improved.

It's much more likely that the subject will think of drinking all this pure water each day, if a jug is kept handy in the car and at the office. Then he can never say he didn't have pure water to drink.

Most individuals say that this cleansing of the blood makes them feel so much more vigorous and happy, that they are still drinking this much water devoutly, years after the treatment is over.

Report on dental infection

In one case involving a low-grade infection of the lower jaw that had been a recurring threat for seven years, the infection was eliminated with two treatments of 5 minutes each, using frequencies #11, 14, 16, 17, 19, 20 and 28.

Researchers often report that with continued use, subject could chew for the first time in years as chronic tenderness disappeared. Usually relapse occurred easily; preventive sessions were necessary for several weeks. It is critical to repeat treatment, since some immature stages in the life cycle of the organism survive to reestablish bone infection through the many miles of microtubles.

In many cases, no infection is evident on X-rays, but silent foci exist in the dentin microtubles, mandible or maxillary bones and lymph nodes. These constantly seed the bloodstream.

And be sure to apply frequencies directly through the entire correct target area, rather than allowing the saliva to divert the current anywhere.

Also we remind the reader to wear gloves when handling electrodes, to prevent current from being diverted to your hands instead of the target area.

Common Uses of Bio Active Frequency

Individual use of frequency is not regulated. Your personal experiments with frequency upon yourself are acceptable.

It is certain uses of the instrument, rather than the instrument itself, which may be restricted until approved for the medical profession. There are many uses of frequencies available to you.

This manual is distributed to machine owners in many different countries. Regulations vary in each, as does the interpretation by local authorities. No manual can cover them all. In the event of a conflict, nothing in this manual is intended to encourage the use of a Bio-active Frequency instrument in any unauthorized manner.

In spite of experience and research no one can anticipate every circumstance, and every possible error, which might be encountered by those using bio-active frequencies. Therefore, we cannot assume liability for errors, omissions, or damages.

Before using your bio active frequency instrument, Please read this manual thoroughly, and use common sense. Be sure that your instrument is of the kind this manual was written for.

Common Uses for All Individuals

Bio-active Frequencies may be used for:

a. Any non-therapeutic uses (such as relaxation, alpha induction, hypnosis entrainment, energy-balancing, etc.)

If you are a licensed health professional, operating within IDE guidelines, you may treat others with this therapy.

If you are not operating under an IDE permit, any medical benefits which result from non-therapeutic uses must be attributed to approved, conventional portions of your protocol.

For laymen, treating disease in others is forbidden. They may, however, obtain an instrument for their personal experimental use.

b. Research for isolating specific frequencies and their bio-active effects on various tissues, cultures, animals, or yourself. The intent here must be to validate the regulatory effects of bio-active frequencies, rather than treat disease.

c. Individual use of unapproved therapy is occasionally permitted for patients with incurable conditions which could not be successfully treated with existing, approved therapy.
(This ruling was handed down by former FDA Commissioner Frank Young, following protests by AIDS activists. Be alert for challenges with change in the political climate.)

d. Use for meridian therapy or acupuncture, were grand fathered or authorized under state laws.

e. I.D.E. use (with PDA authorization).

f. Veterinary use on pets, livestock, show and breeding stock.

g. Demonstrations as part of an educational course on bio-active frequencies. Again, if the intent is obviously to treat disease in others, that is excluded.

h. Investigating the psi effects of frequencies using the Schumann wave.

i. Research in biorhythm regulation with the earth's resonant frequency pattern, #68, the Schumann wave.

j. Research in use of specific frequencies for life extension.

k. Mental health professionals may use specific frequencies to assist or induce hypnosis, and others may use it for relaxation.

l. Scientific use, for determination of new frequencies with metabolic regulatory properties in tissue , etc.

m. Technical use for generation and calibration of frequencies.

n. For animal research of all kinds.

All the above uses are currently accepted as common uses of the published frequencies.

As you can see, possibilities for the use of bio-active frequencies in research and non-therapeutic uses are practically unlimited, unless there is obvious evidence that you are practicing medicine without a license.

Thus it is the use of the instrument, not the instrument itself, which may or may not be restricted. And even those restrictions are removed for those who have obtained a exemption described at the beginning of this section.

In some countries outside the U.S., bio-active frequencies and instruments are approved for use as an accepted medical protocol.

But for those practicing within the U.S., the following section may be very useful:

The low profile choice

This is the choice for those whose professional colleagues lack enthusiasm, belief and tolerance for alternatives which encroach on their territory, jeopardizes their status, and makes you look better to their clients.

So to maintain standing with their colleagues, many practitioners add bio-active frequencies to their protocol as a non-therapeutic use (such as induction of alpha entrainment and meditation, hypnosis, regulation of biorhythms and energy balancing).

If asked about any cures, they attribute them to their conventional protocol, or to meditation, positive thinking, the healing touch, relaxation, the placebo effect, or lifestyle changes. You can say what ever you please. It's now an accepted trend in medicine to explain away such spontaneous remissions with the above.

As long as you employ bio-active frequencies only for non-therapeutic uses, any jealous colleague will have to assume your remarkable success is due to the patient's lifestyle changes, a spontaneous remission, your healing touch or your conventional protocol.

A possible non-medical use of frequencies for insomnia

Patients with any metabolic disorder labeled as “psychosomatic” may be treated, as long as the condition is not officially diagnosed as a disease.

Fortunately, insomnia is officially defined as a condition brought on by stress or psychological disorders, rather than a disease.

Whenever insomnia and other non-medical conditions are officially declared by orthodox medicine to be caused by stress or nerves, you may use frequencies to treat others.

Insomnia is instantly relieved by applying specific frequencies on an acupuncture meridian of the index finger of each hand.

During use of frequency numbers 11,14 and 16 , sessions given shortly after a heavy meal often ended with the subject falling asleep within ten minutes, while still sitting upright.

This pronounced sedative effect is temporary (one night) but completely free of the harmful side effects on the brain which are common with sleeping pills. (In cases of toxic brain syndrome, low blood sugar and sleep apnea, this deep sleep lasts only about 4 hours.)

Life Extension And Other Other Uses

Another promising area of research with bio-active frequencies is life extension.

Frequencies under investigation for life extension include 29, 41,71, 87, 88, 105, and 20, among others. Frequencies to eliminate parasites, and those which effect pathogens (22, 24, 14, 17, 19, 11 + 16) may incidentally extend life as a side effect.

Other non-medical uses of bio-active frequencies include relaxation, hypnosis, alpha induction and energy balancing.

Another interesting use of the instrument is to investigate the effect of the Schumann frequency (the earth's resonant wave) on humans and animals. European scientific studies clearly link the earth's resonant wave to biological rhythms, complex behavior, hormone production and metabolism.

This Schumann wave varies, depending on the frequency of lightning discharges in the tropics, oscillating between the ionosphere and the earth. The average wave pattern is channel 68.

The Schumann or earth's resonant frequency circles the globe with less than 10% attenuation. It is a basic frequency which all life has apparently come to depend on to regulate body functions and basic survival behavior.

Those who live in concrete cities are largely insulated and deprived of this frequency, with resulting insomnia and hormone imbalances.

In many Russian and European experiments, when individuals in deep salt mines and concrete bunkers were deprived of the earth's resonant frequency, gross irregularities were observed in their sleeping habits, hormone/neurotransmitter output, and other biorhythm indicators.

After a short exposure to the Schumann wave (channel 68) nearly all of the subjects underground then resumed regular neurotransmitter and hormone rhythms. (No external influence was present, such as stress, prescription of recreational drugs, etc.)

TABLE OF CONDITIONS

For Investigation of the Effects
Of Bio-active Frequency Patterns

About the Frequency Channels in this Book

The numbers in the following Tables are not frequencies measured in hertz. These numbers are merely channels representing a pattern of frequency such as those channels used for selection in your television set.

All published frequencies have been carefully tested for safety and absence of side effects.

Directions For Using The Following Tables

1. Numbers in BOLD face type are those most frequently reported successful with that condition. This may only mean that the disease organism killed by that frequency pattern is more common than those killed by the other numbers listed.

2. A plus sign (such as 11 +16) simply means BOTH numbers must be used in the SAME session. It means that each channel affects a different stage in the life cycle of an organism. Using only one of the pair of numbers shown may accelerate maturation of another phase in its life cycle.

3. Where more than one number is listed, it means that more than one species of micro-organism may cause the same symptoms. Many different microbes can cause the same symptoms. Each type of microbe may be affected by a different frequency pattern. You can either use all the numbers together during a treatment session, or identify the most active channel

To get the desired effects it is VITAL TO USE DRAINAGE and carefully follow the instructions on the preceding pages.

Channels 1 to 29 produce THE MOST RAPID RESPONSE.

CONDITION ..... NUMBER

Adynamia, geriatric (fatigue of age) (applicators placed on solar plexus and behind animals head) ..... 49, 56

Abdominal inflammation ..... 31, 82, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 15, 88, 12 +16, 14, 17, 18, 20, 28, 29 + 86, 42, 45, 48, 58, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 112, 118, 119, 121, 125,

Paralysis, spastic (slow results in some cases) ..... 1, 14, 17, 18, 20, 25, 26, 27, 29 + 86, 42, 45, 48, 58, 69

Paralysis, non spastic (languorous) (slow results in some cases) ..... 1, 14, 17, 18, 20, 25, 26, 27, 29 + 86, 42, 45, 48, 58, 65, 67

Parasites:

(Autopsies show that parasites are a contributing factor in 40 to 75% of all illness. However ordinary diagnostic labs fail to detect their presence, because they still use faecal smears. Even mucosal swabs and U.V. stains can only detect parasites in certain stages of their life cycle). ..... 42, 45, 48, 58, 29 + 86

Possible Parasite frequencies not yet confirmed:

Ascaris Lumbricoides (hook worm)..... 104
Clonorchis Sinensis (human liver fluke)..... 112
Fasciola hepatica (sheep liver fluke)..... 110
Schistosoma Haematobium (worm-bladder / eyeball)..... 107
Taenia Pisiformis (bladder worm)..... 29
TRICHINELLA SPIRALIS (round worm)..... 36
Proteus Vulgaris (urinary tract infections)..... 25
Naegleria Fowleri (brain parasite)..... 25
Giardia Lamblia (digestive parasite)..... 13
Toxoplasma gondii.....20 Dirofilaria Immitis (heart worm)..... 23
Echinococcus Granulosus (larval stage of Tapeworm)..... 30

Strongyloidiasis (human thread worm).....62
Ancylo-stoma Caninum (round worm, of dogs?)..... 54
Fasciolopsis Busii (eggs, human intestinal fluke).....111
Fasciolopsis Busii (adult, intestinal fluke)..... 112
Eurytrema Pancreaticum (pancreas fluke - found in all diabetes).....102

Parkinson's Disease ..... 28, 83

Prostate tumor (malignant) one electrode against navel, other against rectum ..... 7, 8, 20 + 22 + 24

Pruritus (itching).....14, 17, 20, 28, 42, 45, 48, 58, 29 + 86, 112

Psoriasis - (Requires long-term treatment, since the immune system continues to be programmed to attack the skin long after the offending organism, which has antigen markers similar to skin, has been eliminated. Condition may or may not improve over time with use of parasite and detox frequency numbers. Condition will gradually deteriorate with dietary abuse of sugar and starch) The following frequencies may be tested in Psoriasis To destroy organisms which may stimulate an immune reaction against skin: 11 + 16, 12, 14, 17, 20, 43, 44 + 49, 112

Ankylosing Spondylitis of psoriasis.....54, 55, 82, 61, 69

Psychosomatic pain (viral, energetic meridian block's, toxicity, nutritional).....20, 40, 57, 41, 44 + 32, 87, 88, 108, 109, 114

Pyorrhea (periodontal disease, jawbone infection, receding gums)...14, 17, 18, 20, 28, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10, 11 +16, 29, 87, 88

The electrodes are placed so the infection lies on a straight line between them. If you hold the electrodes, be certain that you touch the electrodes only with gloved hands to prevent deflecting the weak current through the conductive meridians in the hands.

Important note for researchers:
A mouthwash of ordinary drugstore variety hydrogen peroxide (3%) is helpful in controlling infection at the gum line, but usually fails to eliminate the HIDDEN, deep-seated infection in the microtubles of the dentin or the Jawbone.

These infections (pyorrhea / gum disease, mandibular / maxillary foci) contribute toxins which bypass the blood-brain barrier (unlikely according to the conventional wisdom; yet clearing pyorrhea often eliminates head-aches and bizarre behavior).

Although pyorrhea may be controlled or eliminated with treatment, infection will always return with stress or poor diet, until mercury inlays (so-called silver fillings) and nickel alloy (stainless steel) dental appliances are replaced with porcelain (without uranium content).

These toxic metals weaken the immune system and encourage reinfection. Also, for some individuals on a high-sugar diet, gold and palladium have a toxic effect on the immune system and heart. And the alumina in ceramic bridges has now been associated with memory lapses and possibly Alzheimer's Disease. Nothing toxic should be in the mouth!

Rabies ..... 122
Raynaud's Disease (cold hands and feet) ..... 20, 58

Rheumatoid arthritis of the muscles and tendons.....82 + 34, 62, 63, 25+26+27, 1, 11 + 16, 14, 17, 20, 55, 58, 69, 78

To Influence Behavior

Based on research, we believe that behavior can be influenced with harmonics of the same frequencies that occur naturally in the brain during behavior of the opposite characteristics-

Absentmindedness and fear..... 73

Anger..... 71

Irritability, whining (also used for inflammation) ..... 76, 71

Unsociable behavior, falling asleep late ..... 75

Unwillingness to work ..... 72

Miscellaneous Numbers

Requiring special training (acupuncture, aesthetology, biophysics, etc.)

Schumann Frequency,

used for entraining the brain in psychic healing experiments, and to ..

scan brain for troubled areas ..... 68

For Relaxation, Meditation and Deeper Sleep ..... 74

To stimulate Mental Clarity ..... 60

Facial toning..... 62

Kidney meridian (balancing / correction)..... 65
